FACULTY and STUDENTS

Most of our school hours, of course, are spent in the classroom. There our teachers help to acquaint us with many phases of human knowledge—fine arts, mathematics, languages, social sciences. Our studies in all fields are aimed toward one common goal—to equip us to live happy and useful lives.

Administration...

When people think of school employees, they naturally think of teachers first, but just as indispensable to the life of the students at Central are the members of the administration department. The principal and counselors aid us in meeting many of the problems which we find during the school day. Almost every student is grateful to either Mr. Springmann, Mr. Schuster, Miss Taylor, and Mr.

Above: Mr. Martin A. Helfer, the able new superintendent of schools, has successfully completed his first year in Binghamton.

Space for some good advice. The principal, Mr. Springmann, acts as the power behind the school that makes things run smoothly. He is responsible for coordinating all the branches of school life. The principal and counselors have been valuable friends and advisors to many students at Central and certainly have done their best for the school and its students.

Below: Miss Marion Taylor, Soph. and Jr. girls' counselor, wears a pleasant smile while tending to some of her manifold tasks.

Teaching

First Row: Mr. Francis Gorgas, Mr. Harold Hess, Mr. Frank Clark, and Mr. William Dunlop (Industrial Arts).

Second Row: Mr. Lee Kent, Mr. Frank Collen, and Mr. Fredrick Barrett (Industrial Arts).

First Row: Mrs. Frances Bochnak (Commercial), Mrs. Lida Knight, Mrs. Blanche Beers, Mrs. Edith Calvert (Math), and Miss Alice Lowry (Commercial).

Second Row: Mrs. Elsie Coffman (Commercial), Mr. John Gable, Mr. William Hogan (Math), Miss Helen Murphy (Commercial), and Mr. Earl Dooley (Science).

First Row: Miss Avis Balcom, Miss Christella Masten, Miss Corinne Lemon, Miss Elsie Hillis, Miss Ethel Houck (English); and Miss Grace Holcomb (Art).

Second Row: Miss Helen Foley, Miss Constance Gantley, Mr. Harold Anderson, Mr. James Kavanagh, Miss Elizabeth Prior, Miss Reta Taylor and Miss Helen Cusick (English).

Staff...

First Row: Mrs. Edna McDavitt (Administrative Assistant), Miss Leda Wickham, Miss Katherine Miller, Miss Helen Elgin, Miss Mary Miller (Commercial).

Second Row: Mr. Fredrick Hawke (Physical Education), Mr. Benjamin Gold, Mr. John Guley (Commercial), and Mr. John Grace (Science).

First Row: Mrs. Ann Crosby, Miss Bertha Munsell, Miss Marion Rostiser, Miss Louise Wulff, Miss Mildred Youngstrom, and Miss Margaret Brown (Social Studies).

Second Row: Mr. Emerson Bateman (Aviation), Mr. James Hogan, Mr. George Finnegan, and Mr. Michael Bochnak (Social Studies).

First Row: Mrs. Ruth Tanner (Homemaking), Mrs. Edna Hinds, Miss Loretta Murphy, Miss Josephine Rosenberg (Language), Miss Caroline Wadsworth (Commercial), and Miss Edna Brown (Language).

Second Row: Miss Anna Bloom (Health), Mrs. Lillian Perkins, Miss Dagmar Wulff (Homemaking), Mr. Henry Merz (Physical Education), Miss Jean Irwin, Miss Catherine Keenan (Language); and Miss Kathryn Hyland (Science).

Science

Mr. Grace, of the Science Department, is explaining the process of distilling water. James Allen, Julia Speerbeck and Carolyn Ross listen attentively to learn about the world in which they live. The lab period acts as a means of making science alive because it is there that students apply what they have learned in their chemistry and physics textbooks.

English

Norman Foster is practicing giving a humorous speech in front of an appreciative audience, his English class. English is one of the subjects taught in Central which gives the pupil a wonderful chance to develop his talents. His speaking talent may be advanced through speeches which are often one of the regular assignments. His writing ability may be greatly aided by the writing of compositions and the criticism which the teacher gives of his work. But the main ability which a student develops through this study is the talent for appreciation. By reading and studying a great deal of the world's best prose, poetry, and drama and through regular book reports the student learns to understand and enjoy all kinds of literature.

Homemaking

Homemaking girls are experimenting in putting the finishing touches on a dress which one of the girls has just made. Miss Dagmar Wulff looks on to advise. In addition to sewing, homemaking courses provide expert training in child care, cooking, and interior decorating.

Aviation

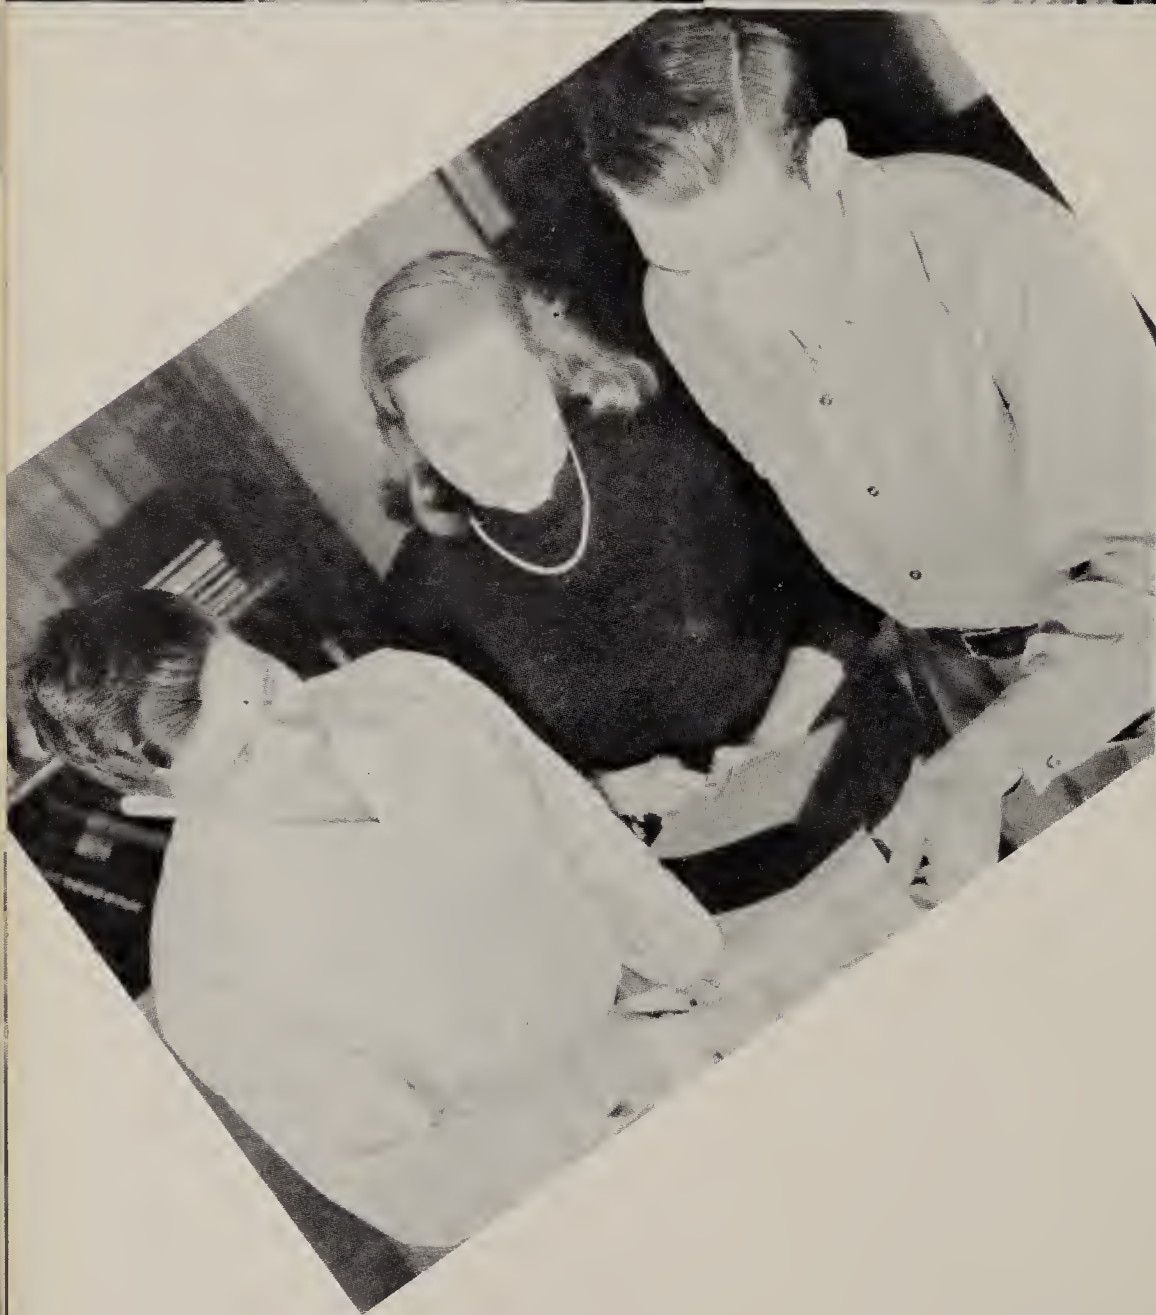

As the world becomes more air-minded, we find an increasing interest in aviation on the part of Central students. Of course the field of aviation is complex and involved, but in the short time permitted students are acquainted with the principles of flying, weather, the structure of the plane, geography, and the lingo of an aviator. Mr. Emerson Bateman directs this fascinating class, which is open to all Central students. At present both boys and girls enjoy these lessons. The class has been on tours of Links Aviation Co. and the Triple Cities Airport. Keeping abreast of the latest aviation news and experiments, these students are preparing to be an important part of the air-age.

Social Studies

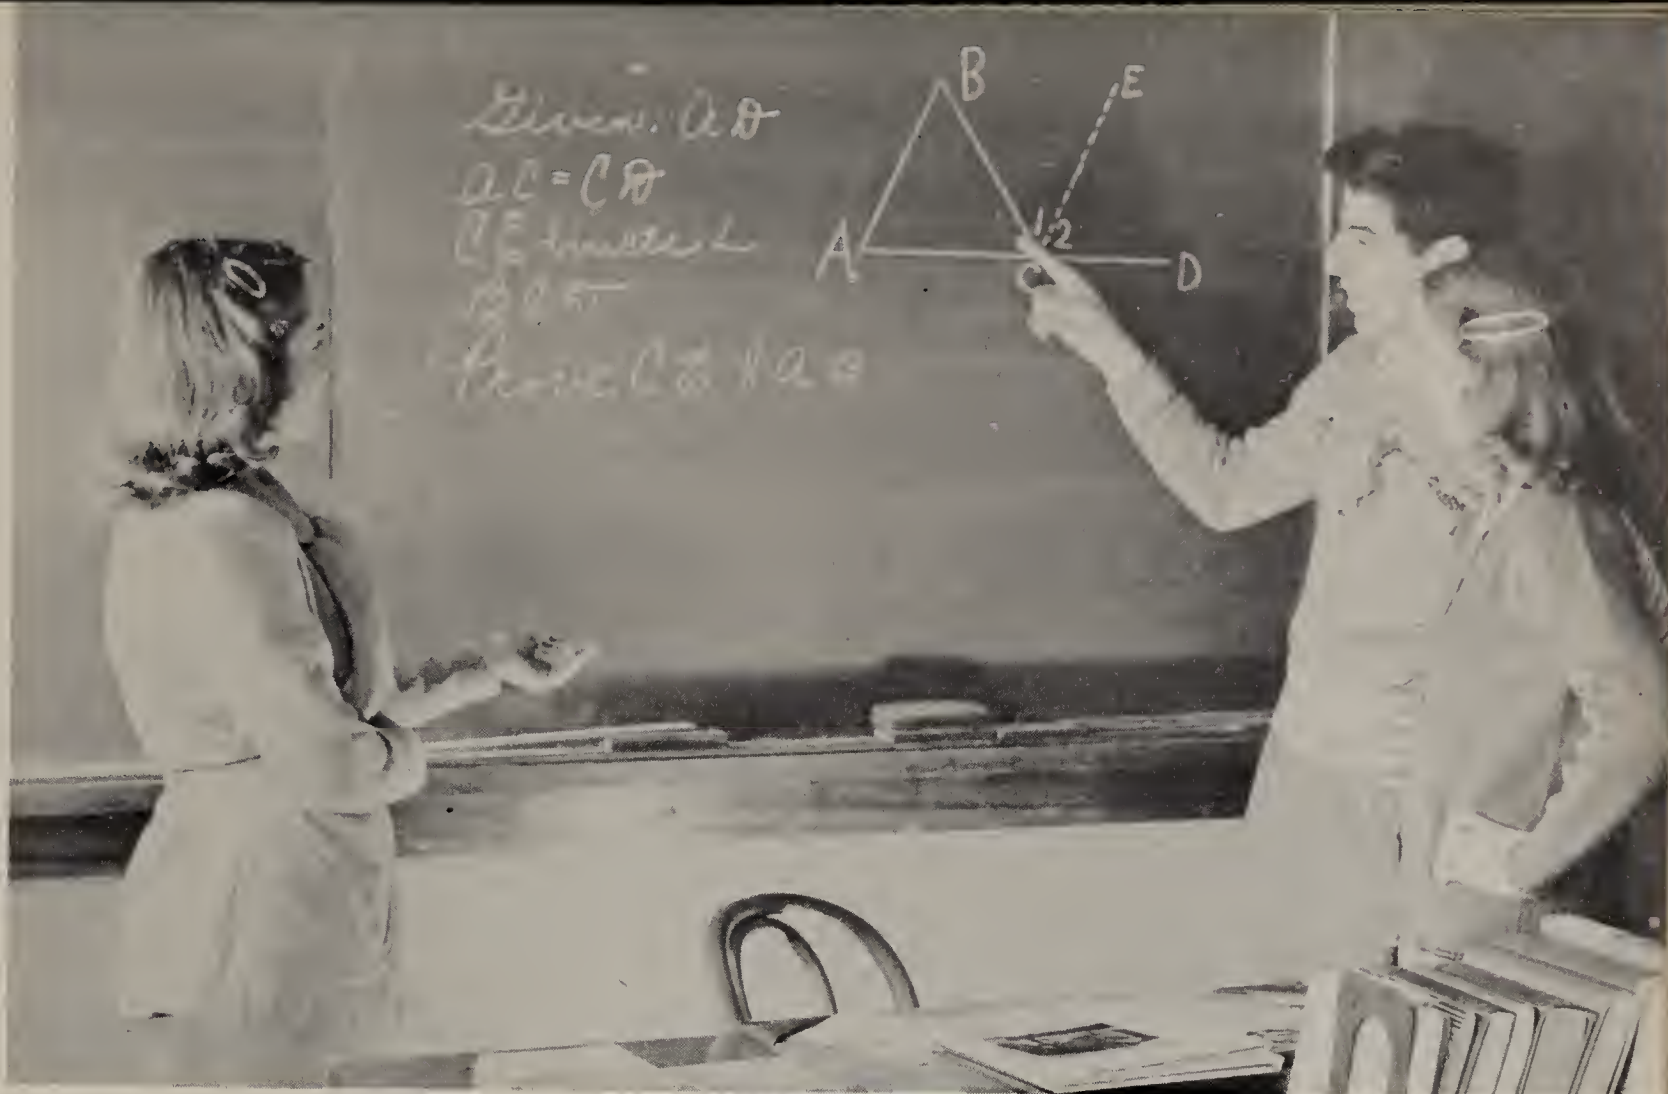

Marjorie Stewart points out a remote place on the globe to fellow classmates.

The history classroom is similar to a model United Nations, for it is here that students are constantly exchanging ideas and opinions. Ancient history, American history, and World Problems compose the entire three-year history course. More important even than learning definite facts is the stimulation to think things out for oneself and to respect the other man's opinion.

Languages

George Gitlitz, Marilyn Arwine and Addison Keeler are reading a letter which has just been received from a girl in France. The language department, under the head of Miss Loretta Murphy teaches the students not only French, German, Latin, and Spanish, but also the backgrounds of the different nations: their customs, history, etc. Today, more than ever, as the world becomes smaller and smaller, it is becoming more and more necessary to know our fellowmen.

Mathematics

Margaret Bartlett, Nelson Mansour, and Janet Conklin are engrossed in trying to prove that CE equals AB. All students taking the college course must take a certain amount of mathematics. The particular subjects in this field at Central are plane and solid geometry, intermediate and advanced algebra, and trigonometry. These studies offer an excellent background for the student who is taking up specialized work in the field and serve to aid the logic and clear thinking of the regular student.

Art

A group of students are evaluating art work which they have just completed. The Art Department is once again under the capable direction of Miss Grace Holcomb, who spent a year as an exchange teacher in England. Under her supervision, classes composed of students who wish to make art their career, and others who are merely interested in art as a hobby, learn the basic principles of design, representation, and classic art.

Music

Kathy Hardy, Nelson Dunham, and Helen Taylor, members of the string trio, practice for a program that they will present. Music classes are valuable not only for those who are interested in music as a career, but also to those who like music as a hobby

Health

Robert Dowd, Kenneth Crerar, Donald Estabrook, and Donald Moran are having their hearing tested at the Health Fair.

The health course includes both physical and mental health. Problems, complexes, and emotional difficulties are talked over; the eyes, ears, and nose are studied in detail along with other parts of the body. The health course, under the direction of Miss Bloom, combines the textbook with the practical side of health.

Commercial

Joan Jankewiez and Mary Freebern practice taking an assignment which must be typed. Modern business machines excellent teacher, and a thorough extensive course have made Central's Commercial Department outstanding. Central pupils can choose from a wide field which includes arithmetic, business law, bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, salesmanship, and business management.

Industrial

Joe Snopek and Gerald Krise are being taught the art of running a printing press. The strange noises you sometimes hear coming from the basement of Central are the noises made by the Industrial Department. In this department, students learn the intricacies of autos, lathes and other kinds of machinery, mechanical drawing, and the printing trade.

Driving

Devoting two class periods a week to studying driving techniques and laws, this driving class will soon be ready to take over the U. S. highways. Each student spends twenty minutes a day at the wheel under the watchful eye of Mr. Fred Hawk.

Physical Ed.

In Physical Education classes boys are given exercises to build their bodies. They also take part in such sports as basketball, baseball, track and volleyball.

Ten minutes 'till curtain time... Point of order... Only three days 'till the deadline... Shoot it at an angle... I nominate for President of G. O.... Band rehearsal at noon... Phrases such as these go to make up an important part of Central's—

ACTIVITIES

What would life at Central be like without all our activities? Noons and nights the students are busy doing everything from building stage sets to playing in string quartets. The numerous organizations give Centralites the opportunity to develop skills and interests, meet new friends, and find a means of expressing their creative ability.

General Organization...

School Officers

First Row: Helen Margolis, President (Spring); Elaine Ne Jame, Vice President (Spring); Dorothy Bartel, Secretary (Spring); Marie Kratochvil, Secretary (Fall).

Second Row: Charles Chetko, Treasurer (Spring); Harry Kradjian, President (Fall); James Bennett, Treasurer (Fall); Roy Auchinachie, Vice President (Fall).

The handle that turns the life of Central is General Organization. Under the capable guidance of Mr. John Guley, G.O. has participated in many activities. With the fall terms officers: Harry Kradjian, President; Roy Auchinachie, Vice President; Marie Kratochvil, Secretary, and James Bennett, Treasurer, a variety of programs was sponsored. Central's three mascoteers were chosen by G.O. The big day of the term was Papa Central Day (the time when all Centralites appear clad in dungarees and plaid shirts.) G.O. provides for electing a Papa Central, the character who has become an important tradition in school life. During the football season G.O. sponsored a joint dance with North High. At Christmas the glittering tree found in the Main corridor was also a product of G.O.

The spring term found a change in officers, and the election results showed that the girls outnumbered the boys three to one. Following a spirited campaign, Helen Margolis was elected the first girl president in the history of Central. The Vice-President was Elaine NeJame; Secretary, Dorothy Bartal, and Treasurer, Charles Chetko. Lively sessions were held in Room 119 on the first and third Monday of each month to plan activities for the term. In order to stimulate school spirit and encourage the students to feel that Central was really their school, those interested were invited to attend a G.O. meeting, and a box for suggestions was placed on the Hostess desk. At the opening of the spring term, committees were eagerly working on the following projects: drawing up a new constitution that could be workable, securing bicycle racks, adopting a foreign school, improving conditions in the lounge during noon, arranging a big event for the entire school during the spring term, and publishing handbooks containing all that students and faculty should know concerning Central.

Certainly there is no organization which can help to prepare students for active participation in a democracy so much as General Organization.

The student's day of the year is marked by our traditional Papa Central Day Skit.

Panorama Annual...

310 is one of the busiest homerooms in the school. You see Mr. Grace, the faculty advisor, has most of the members of the Pan Annual Staff placed in that homeroom in order to make the problem of getting in touch with them much simpler. Almost every day something concerning the annual is going on. If you look in early in the fall term you will most likely see the planning board working out the basic framework for the yearbook. As the year progresses you will hear in the homeroom talk of various assignments which have been given the editorial, business, and photographic staffs. Later, comes the handing in of these assignments, and then accomplishment sheets for the graduates. All the jobs are finally completed and the yearbook, such as the one you now hold, reaches your hand. There, briefly, you have the evolution of the Annual.

All the Annual staff, both in and out of 310, work together (and have a lot of fun doing it) to make the yearbook truly an interesting and diverting picture of school life during the year.

Honor

Honor Society members collect books from Central students to send to less fortunate children.

Their goal has been reached! The forty members of Honor Society have achieved one of the highest honors in Central. They have been accepted as members of Honor Society. To be eligible, a student must have at least two awards in one field. Preference is given to those with more than two awards, and serious consideration is given to a person's character, personality, attitude, and interest in school life. A maximum number of twenty-four senior A's and eight Senior B's may be accepted each term, with a total of eight in each of the four fields—Fine Arts, Scholarship, Athletics, and School Service. The officers for the fall term were: President, Billy Haskins; Vice-President, Nancy Ladd, Secretary, Kath-

The eight Senior B's have supervision over the Honor Society Assembly. A candlelight ceremony was conducted during the spring term followed by a reception for parents and friends of the new members and the faculty.

In addition to sponsoring the four assemblies, Honor Society played an active part in carrying on the campaign to raise money for new band uniforms. Mr. Richard L. Schuster is the man who works continuously behind the scenes as the advisor to Honor Society.

Panorama Newspaper...

About three or four times a term a notice reading something like this appears in the daily bulletin: "Pan Newspaper will be sold tomorrow in homeroom. Don't forget your nickel!" That's good news to most Central students, for it means that on the next day, they will be able to read all the news about the people and events at school. Most of us I am sure read the paper from cover to cover. We enjoy the gossip column and José's sports news. The opinions of our fellow students expressed in the opinion column interest us. The photographs and the drawings are other diverting features of the Pan.

This year's staff, under the leadership of Miss Helen Cusik faculty advisor, and Anna Mae Ryan and Phyllis Allen, Fall and Spring editors respectively, has made each edition of the paper an excellent report of school life, both in and out of the classroom.

All the regular items plus the many incidental features of each edition helped to make us all feel that the Pan Newspaper was well worth a nickel and more.

Red Cross...

Our Junior Red Cross Council is made up of representatives from all the homerooms whose purpose it is to lead the school in the humanitarian services performed by the International Junior Red Cross. Under the active leadership of Miss Caroline Wadsworth, faculty advisor, Eleanor Kozak, and Elizabeth Stuart, the council has carried on its varied annual program with a great deal of interest and a good measure of success.

Central packed more gift boxes than any other school in the county, for which there was great satisfaction when a letter of thanks was received from an Italian girl.

The council and Art Department brightened the holiday trays of veterans in the Bath Hospital with 130 menu covers. It was for the benefit of the veterans, too, that a knitted afghan was prepared.

This organization, then, manifests Central's spirit of generosity, working in its small but significant way toward a happier world for all.

Lit Club...

Lit Club is one of the few organizations in Central open only to the females of the school. The girls meet each week with their lively advisor, Miss Constance Gantley to discuss art, literature, and music. Actually Lit Club participates in a great variety of activities, all hitting on some phase of culture. Interest was added to the meetings by the guest speakers, Miss Grace Holcolm and Mr. James P. Kavanaugh. Miss Holcolm, our exchange teacher to England, created such interest that many Lit Club members are now corresponding with students in England. The highlights of the year were the two impressive initiations, the banquets for the graduates, and the annual assembly. Each term Lit Club accepts new members to take the place of those who graduate. These new girls first must go through an evening of pledging in which they memorize lines from a play or poem and act them out. At the end of each term Lit Club uses the money it has made on sandwich sales and magazine subscriptions to have a big dinner honoring all the graduates.

Betty Cullen and Marie Polizotto administer the Lit Club ritual at the semi-annual initiation.

Dramatics...

Joan Baldwin, as Joan of Lorraine, portrays Joan's dedication of her armor.

Although the audience is settling down in their seats before the curtain, behind it there is chaos and confusion. Everyone is wishing everyone else good luck, and we hear other bits of conversation such as "Where's that prop?" and "Will you please let me finish my line tonight before you start yours?" The overture is suddenly over. Everyone gets in his place and the curtain goes up on another Binghamton Central High School Dramatics Club production.

The club presented two widely different plays this year. Both of these were, moreover, hits of the 1946-47 Broadway season.

The fall production was a performance of Maxwell Anderson's dramatic and moving Joan of Lorraine. Joan of Arc was beautifully played by Joan Baldwin and the leading male roles were played by Addison Keeler and Jerome Clark. Central was one of the few amateur groups in the country to do the play.

In the spring, the club secured the rights to do another hit, Years Ago, a gentle, tender comedy by Ruth Gordon which told of her own childhood in 1910. It was presented on two nights with a double cast. Elaine NeJame and Delores Chernoski played Ruth, with Stephen Takats and Robert Thorne as Papa. Mama was played by Kay Hagadorn and Doreen Cady.

Stuart Smith, Buffy Stuart, Margie Wedge, and Barb Rex finish up work on the cathedral scene.

Photography...

Celebrating its first anniversary this year Photo Club, under the direction of Mr. Paul Gable, is the up and coming organization of Central. The club is divided into groups which perform a specific operation during the entire year. Members are often seen working actively on assignments for the Pan Newspaper and Pan Annual.

First Row: Josef Marks, George Tomko, Mr. John Gable, Irwin Van Horn, Raymond Church.

Speakers' Bureau...

One of the organizations in Central High which attempts to aid not only the school but the community as well, is the Speakers Bureau. Beginning in the early fall of last year with speeches and radio programs for the Community Chest, the bureau continued its work all through the school year. Among the other subjects for which members campaigned were the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Drive and Brotherhood week.

First Row: Ugo Fabrizio, Elaine NeJame, Dolores Chernoski, Harriette West, Richard Hartigan.

Second Row: Peter Costas, Marilyn Burke, Norman Foster.

Third Row: Wayland Schmitt, Arnold Katz, Grace Donnelly, Joan Baldwin, Jerome Clark.

Dom Econ...

Central's organization Dom-Econ is a part of the large national organization known as "Future Homemakers of America." These girls meet with the purpose of acquiring a growing appreciation of homemaking by participating in those activities beyond the regular school courses.

First Row: Agnes McLean, Patricia Pope, Betty Stecker, Mrs. Ruth Tanner, Joyce Kinney, Joan Pirich, Jane Kinney.

Second Row: Geri Crossett, Crossett, Jeanne Rubin, Betty Brand.

Fourth Row: Jane Ann Ryder, Margaret Lisick, Mary Jane Cheechalk, Mary Whipple, Marion Gavula, Dolores Newton, Agnes Runyon, Rita Ceranowicz, Vaughn Schmitt.

Stage Crew...

The stage crew is most outstanding among those groups in Central who work behind the scenes and receive comparatively little recognition. These boys know the exact details about how to put up a set lighting, curtains and changing scenery. Their great skill in these fields displays itself in the dramatics club productions, weekly assembly programs, and outside programs.

First Row: Marley Lewis, George Bouline.

U. N. Youth...

It's a thrilling feeling to put yourself in the place of a country in the U. N and try to figure out why the country has the attitude she has toward a certain problem. Under the advisors, Miss Marion Rostiser and Miss Louise Wulff, students who are interested in international problems meet as a discussion group every two weeks.

First Row: Eleanor Kozak, Josephine Vitanza, Maryann Kowalchik, Elizabeth Stuart, Helen Margolis.

Third Row: Richard Hartigan, Eugene Nester, John Lannon, John Burns, James Martone, Ugo Fabrizio.

Under the direction of Mr. J. P. Kavanagh, Pro et Com Club has become one of the most lively organizations in Central. Adhering to the old saying, "There are two sides to every story," Central's debaters present the negative and affirmative to every discussion and debate. In this club do we truly find democracy in action.

First Row: Jacques Doyle, Audrey Bick, Helen Margolis, Marjorie Wedge, Maryanne Robinson, Sheldon Glass.

Second Row: Ugo Fabrizio, Gay Gardner, Sally Stone, Hilda Slutzker, Peter Costas.

Third Row: Ruth Friedland, Marilyn Brefka, Joanne Malmros, Dorothy Ray, Maria Floros, Josephine Vitanza, Elizabeth Stuart.

Music Groups...

One of Central's more important activities is music. Under the leadership of Mr. Albert Nemeth and Mr. Alphonse Nowak this activity consists of many different organizations. First, let us consider the instrumental music. Here we have the band, fife and drum corps, and orchestra. These are a valuable aid to school spirit, for they add pep to sports events, plays, and assemblies. Centralites, I'm sure, will always associate the band, fife and drum corps, and orchestra with their high school memories.

Under the heading of vocal music, we have the Choir and Festival Chorus. Working hard, these two groups try to develop the singing talent which Central has, and at the same time enjoy themselves through music. The Choir brought some of this enjoyment to the student body in their memorable Christmas program in association with the Dramatics Club.

Music really may be termed as one of those activities at Central which brings enjoyment not only to the participants, but to the students and general public as well.

Speaking Contests...

Twice each year Central's orators are given the opportunity to participate in the traditional speaking contests — the Lyons-Weeks for boys and the Disinger-Church for girls. The programs are particularly entertaining for the students because of the great variety of speeches, and in the one hour one travels from one end of the globe to another. In the fall contest first honors went to Addison Keeler; Wayland Schmitt received second prize; and the third prize was won by Arnold Katz. Other contestants were Richard Hartigan and Jerome Clark. In the Spring five finalists were finally determined from a large group of girls.

Student Staff Assistants ...

Celebrating its fifth birthday is the unsung organization, the Student Staff Assistants. Organized in 1943 under the direction of Mr. William Bush, the Student Staff Assistants have since come under the capable leadership of Mr. Springmann and Mr. Maxwell Space. This club is the spark plug of Central High. Its members take charge of the noon-day study halls and typing rooms, assist Mrs. Coffman in 223, helpout in the lounge, act as hosts and hostesses in the main corridor, lend a helping hand to the nurses in the clinic, aid the teachers in the art rooms and labs, and type and file in the counselors' offices.

Third Row: Marie Robinson, Marie Kratochvil, Beverly Houghtaylen, Steffie Kucera, Louise Aton, Agnes Rosic, Gloria Horowitch, Rosalyn Feinberg, Joan Knickerbocker, Patricia Beatty, Eileen O'Connor, Marie Hornick, Marilyn Vail, Alice Smyk.

Fourth Row: Joy Hider, Mary Jane Dewey, Maryann Kowalchik, Dorothy Donchuk, Marilyn Brefka, Dolores Donnelly, Anna Tokos, Phyllis Oliver, Elaine Wheeler, Ernestyne Geide, Joanne Malmros, Mary McKeeby, Hedi Schmidt.

Fine Arts...

Fine Arts is the newest organization to be added to Central's growing list of extra-curricular activities. It was felt that there was a need for a group which would delve into literature, philosophy, music, and art. In the short time that Fine Arts has been in existence, under the leadership of Mr. George Youngstrom, members have had meetings in which they have listened to Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 and Ravel's Bolero on records. Also several students have discussed topics of interest, such as Contemporary Thought, Plato's Republic, Classical Music, and Modern Jazz.

Of course, there is too little time at weekly meetings to accomplish all that the members would like to do, but the main purpose of the meetings is to serve as a stimulus so that students will have a desire to read and study more thoroughly on the topics brought up at meetings.

First Row: Peter Costas, Marilyn Burke, Georgia Steigerwald, Anna Reistetter, Jacques Doyle.

Second Row: Gregory Lemoniades, Gus Felahi, Robert Cable, Eugene Nester, Carlos Dickerson.

Third Row: Ugo Fabrizio, Sam Keyaian, Gerald Dudek, Frank Rabey.

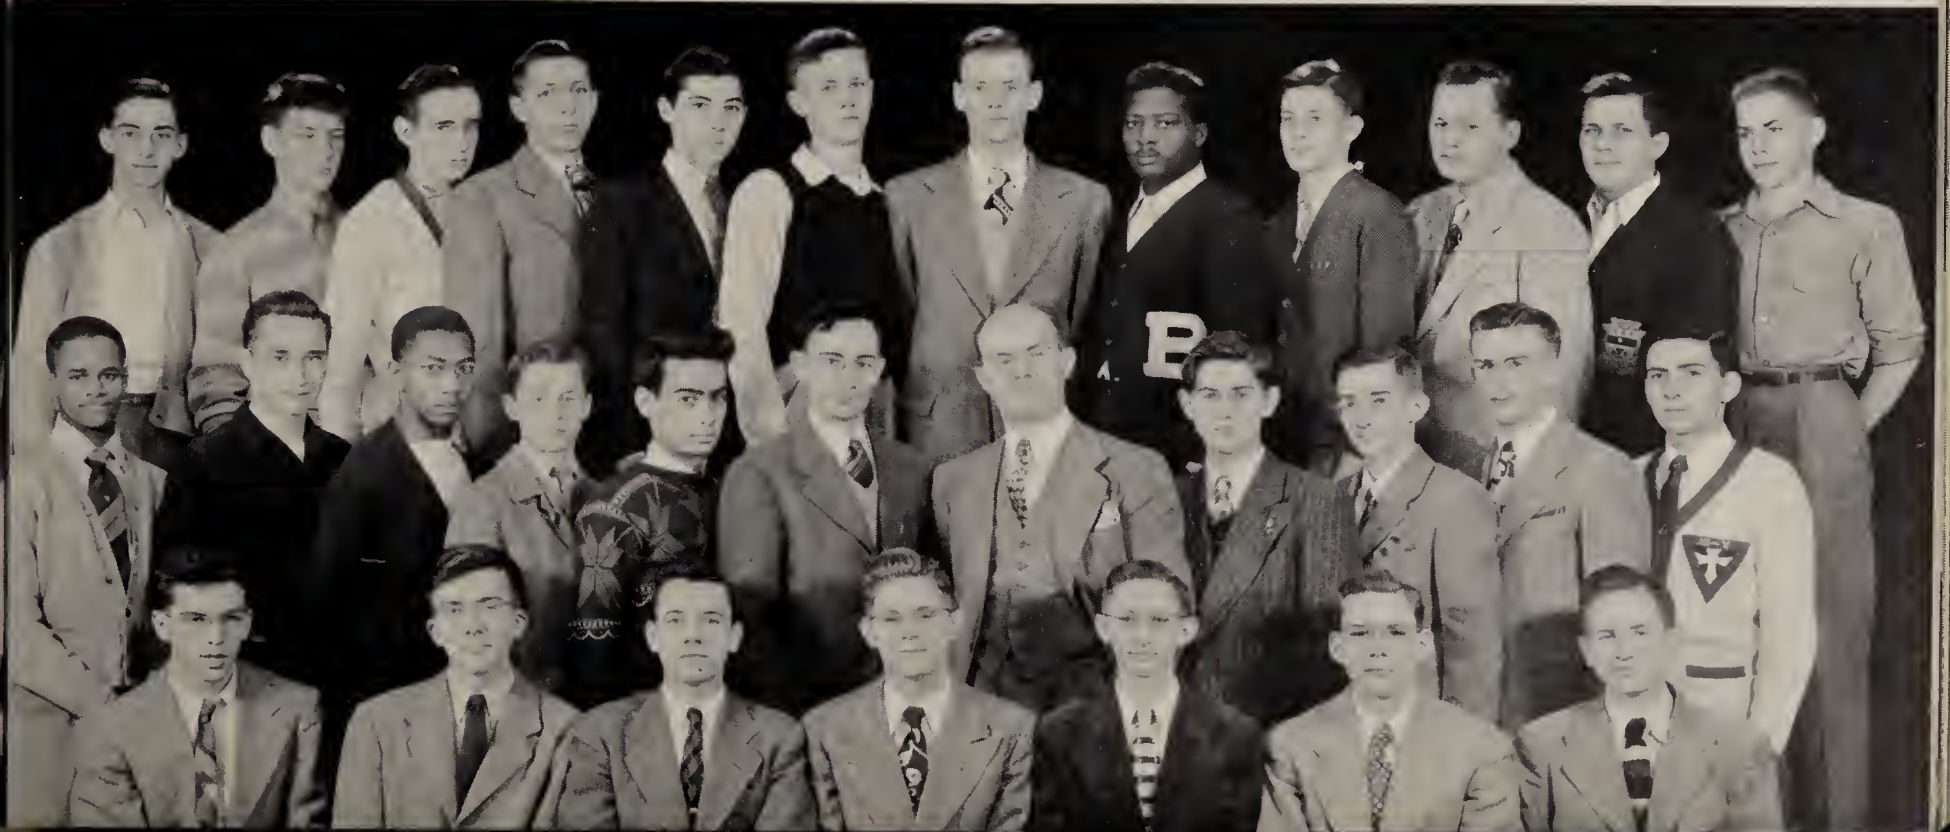

Hi-Y...

This year Hy-Y has become one of the most active clubs in Central. Under the capable leadership of Addison Keeler, president during the fall term, and Harry Ceranowitz, president during the spring term, the boys had hayrides, held a successful paper drive, sold programs at the football games, sold refreshments at the basketball games, attended numerous conferences, and had very interesting speakers. Among these speakers was Major Jan Eisenhower of the U.N. The boys prepared model legislation for the Y.M.C.A. Youth in Government program. They also sent two representatives to the National Hi-Y Congress.

First Row: George Bouline, Wayland Schmitt, Jerome Clark, Harry Ceranowicz, President; Frank Underwood, Chaplain; Addison Keeler, Roy Auchinachie.

Gloversville 0

On September 27 the Blue Bulldogs travelled to Gloversville to take on a favored squad from the mitten-town. Early in the first period John Marusich, Central's hard-driving fullback, scored on a buck from three yards out. Jim (never-miss) Nash converted. Then Billy Haskins thrilled (?) the Gloversville crowd with a 65-yard run. Haskins, George King, and George Bills took to the 16, from which point Elmer Dino plunged over. Central only punted once in the whole game and showed great promise for games to come.

B.C.H.S. 7

Ithaca 0

Before a large group of Central fans who had journeyed to Ithaca to see the Finnegan men in action, Central's 1947 edition of the Bulldogs squeezed by a fighting Ithaca eleven by the score of 7-0. The Blue rooters didn't have to wait long to shout as, on the first play from scrimmage, Billy Haskins took a handoff from Bill Lane, cut over right guard and streaked 55 yards to paydirt. Golden-toed Jim Nash converted to make the score 7-0. During the remaining quarters, Central threatened continually, but couldn't dent the Ithaca's goal.

B.C.H.S.25

Elmira F. A..... 6

Central continued on its winning ways by beating a fighting but outclassed Elmira Free Academy eleven 25 to 6. Billy Haskins again scintillated for the Blue, scoring in the first period on a twisting sixty-yard run and countering on a forty-yard gallop after having intercepted a pass in the fourth canto. The Blue also scored on two passes — Lane to Nash and King to Murray. Jim Nash raised his total for the day to seven points with his educated toe. The light Blue from Elmira — paced by quarterback Eddie Lyon — never got going but scored on an intercepted lateral late in the game. Final score, Central 25 — Elmira 6.

When the teams returned for the second half on October 18, the fans wondered what Coach Finnegan had said to his charges. They had floundered around for the first half while Norwich had good luck with their aerial attack, but the second half was a different story. In the third quarter Billy Haskins found a gap at left tackle, cut for the coffin corner, outruled the secondary, and gave the Cenral rooters something to shout about. Nash converted. After an interception on the Blue 43, Monsipapa, Stevens, Grivas, and Haskins sparked a drive to paydirt with Billy scoring again. Final score: 13-0

The Blue having won four straight, the Central rooters were given something to moan about by J. C. The Maroon Wildcats, hitting on all cylinders, picked up Blue fumbles and intercepted passes, relentlessly converting them into quick scores. The Bulldogs were outscored, but not outfought. After J. C. had drawn first blood, Bill Haskins drove in five straight plays to the Maroon 32-yard line. Then Haskins and big John Marusich alternated to the one, from which Red Stevens plunged over. After this it was all J. C. The Butkus men run up the score to 33-6.

B.C.H.S. 6
J. C.33

The fifteenth meeting with our inter-city rivals from Frederick Street caused Central to taste defeat again at North High Stadium. Strangely enough, before the Indians had run the ball from scrimmage, Central had scored a first round knockdown by virtue of a 38-yard march to the end zone following Hanafin's fumble and culminating in Haskin's plunge from the 2-yard stripe. North took over completely from this point, however, and with Petro and Hanafin starring, passed, drove, and skirted the flanks to run up a 26-6 count at the final gun.

B.C.H.S. 6

After two successive defeats the Bulldogs again tasted victory on a snow-covered Elmira gridiron. Bill Haskins again starred for the Blue, snowshoeing his way to two T.D.'s, one of which was a 45-yard punt return through the whole Elmira squad. In the third quarter little Joe Rogers up from the J.V.'s, thrilled the crowd on a 68-yard run from scrimmage. The first T.D. came on a 2-yard buck by Frank Monsipapa. Mortimer's men were never in danger, although the Elmirans scored twice, bringing the score to 26-13.

The traditional turkey day game with U. E. was changed this year to November 15 to insure better playing conditions. On the bleak, wet, freezing afternoon of November 15, a far from capacity crowd of 5,000 sat in dismal silence as the Harris cousins from U.E. along with a tremendous line outscored the Central squad 19-0. The injury ridden Blue played their best and fought every inch but to no avail. Some of the younger players showed by their stellar play that next year it will be a different story — on Thanksgiving Day, 1948.

J. V. Football...

The grind that makes champions.

Practising daily at MacArthur Stadium under the expert tutelage of Coach Hank Merz a J.V. football squad of about 40 men showed great promise of providing Central with an outstanding varsity in the years to come. The team finished the season in third place in the Triple Cities league, having beaten the Golden Bears of Vestal 18-0, tying North 6-6, and dropping tilts to U-E 12-6 and J.C. 20-0. In a nonleague contest Newark Valley edged the Bullpups 13-0. The backfield spark was provided mostly by Joe Rogers and Don Simek, who pranced behind a forward wall built around a nucleus consisting of John Osborne, Frank Ruffo, Carl Saeman, Ernie Whittle, and Bob Howard. A few of the boys saw limited service in some of the varsity games, the highlight being Rogers' 68-yard touchdown sprint against Elmira Southside. In order that the boys might learn to work together and move up as a unit, the average age was kept to 16 or under. The '47 season saw a very significant move made in the inauguration of a junior high school feeder system, whose teams occasionally scrimmaged with the Central J.V.'s. With the carrying on of organized pigskin toting in the ninth grade, it is hoped to overcome the advantage that many of the schools in the Southern Tier circuit have always held over the Bulldogs.

Wherever you look, in the lounge, bandroom, or auditorium, you can hear and see Central's peppy, vivacious cheerleaders. It was this crew of Centralites which spurred our football players on to victory. At each game they could be found leading the Central supporters in the school cheers. Although not always up front, the sub-cheerleaders do their work by selling programs at the games. Imagine what the pep assemblies or the out-of-town games would be like without our cheerleaders. How about a whoop-e-ay for Central's cheerleaders?

Central basketball fans again had a team to be proud of this season, as the Anderson men became the only team ever to win the Section IV Championship for two consecutive years. Starting with four of last year's team — Eydt, Kniffen, Yuhas, and Dino — back to form the nucleus, "Whitey" added Bill Haskins, John Drose, Dick Stacy, and Bob Disch to the roster, and later elevated Frank Monsipappa and Jerry Palombi from the J.V.'s, thus completing the line-up.

After having added Vestal to the long string of wins compiled last season, the Blue saw this line broken by a tough J.C. aggregation on December 12 by a 34-30 count on the Wild-cats' floor. The team bounded back, however, to lick Elmira Free Academy, nose out Liberty in a non-conference tilt, and then take Elmira South Side, before dropping their second heart-breaker of the season to North on the latter's court, 51-49. After beating U-E 53-47, the boys journeyed to Watertown and dropped a non-league game. Then began a series of seven wins starting at the expense of Ithaca and Vestal.

The next fray was a matter of revenge, as the Bulldogs gave J.C. a cage lesson to the tune of 42-28. When Elmira S.S. had been disposed of, Binghamton readied itself for the game-of-the-year — the second North game. The walls of the Old Armory bulged 15 minutes after the gates were opened, and the tension of both sides increased right up to the final whistle, when relieved and thrilled Central fans carried Anderson and Eydt from the gym. The score was a decisive 48-40, and it marked Whitey's 100th victory as the Bulldog mentor, as well as the end of North's undefeated conference season.

Two points for Central.

The hoopsters next breezed past Elmira F.A. and U.E., but when they invaded Ithaca, in the last conference contest, a rude Little Red Team upset the boys 40-38. The following week, though, in the quarter-finals of the play-offs, this insult was righted by a 36-25 score. On March 18, in the semi-finals, the Blue & White again took J.C. into camp 53-41. The following night, they won the Section IV Championship for the second time in a row by licking Elmira Free Academy 40-31.

The season was marked by the high scoring of long Fred Eydt, John Yuhus, and Bob Kniffen, as well as the stellar floor work of Stacy, Haskins, Dino, and Drose. In various all-star teams selected after the campaign, Eydt, Kniffen, Yuhus, and Dino won berths, and the towering center was named outstanding player in the conference. Coach Anderson's record of never having lost on his home court survived, and once again Bulldog fans had a team that can be talked about for years to come.

A tense moment under the hoop.

J. V. Basketball...

Although this season's J. V. basketballers didn't compare with their big brothers in the won and lost columns, they nevertheless showed frequent form that had Whitey Anderson beaming in anticipation of next year's varsity squad. The boys finished the season in a tie for the fourth position in the league, having suffered a great loss when Jerry Palombi and Frank Monsipapa moved to the varsity, this being a disaster that Coach Art Sharpsteen seems to run into every season. With Boyd Kennicutt and lanky Mike Jabo alternating at the center post, and with Dadamio, Taylor, Serbonich, and Barile rounding out the starting five the hoopsters split with J. C. and North made a clean sweep of two tilts each against Vestal and both Elmira schools, but dropped a pair apiece to Ithaca and the circuit pace-setters, U-E. Although the loss of the two key men was a hard blow, this is the purpose of all J. V. teams, and the fact that the varsity profited by the arrival of Palombi and Monsipapa was ample reward for the Blue and White Bullpups.

Last minute briefing for the Bullpups.

Two of Whitey Anderson's great "floor men", Eydt and Yuhas.

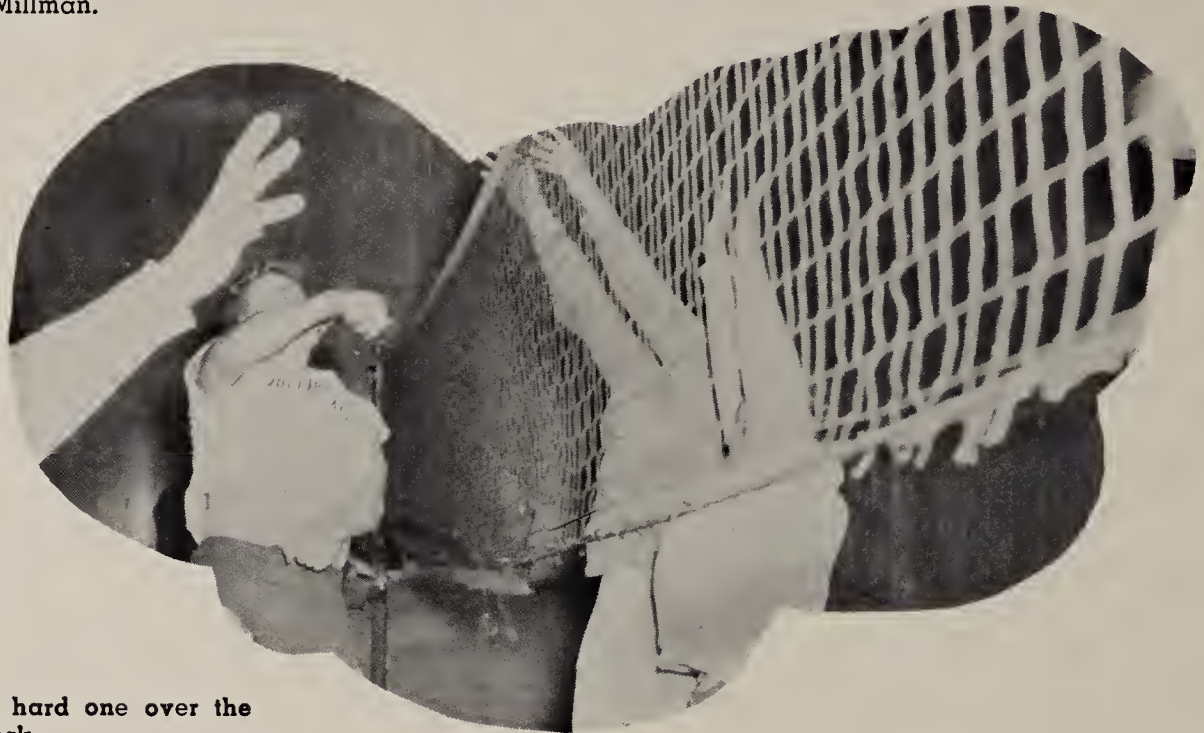

Volleyball...

Again this year Central's spikers and passers didn't lose a match. Usually the first string won the first one or two games and then the Junior Varsity would take over. Since all but one of last year's squad was back this year's big job was rebuilding for next year. The team retired the Auslies trophy and won the Section IV tourney for the second year in a row beating Oneonta in the finals, although they were not at full strength.

Cross Country...

Laboring under the same handicap that plagued last year's team—lack of manpower—the Central harriers nevertheless improved and showed good promise for next year. They dropped meets to Vestal and North High's championship squad but took second in a triangular meet, beating Ithaca. Bob Piave starred in the Triple Cities meet and he and Peter Supa scored in the Sectionals. Coach Ben Gold can look forward to a good future as Piave and some other promising boys will be back.

First Row: Stephen Takats, Mr. Ben Gold (coach), Peter Supa.

Second Row: John Breckinridge, John Baran, Nick Giorgio, Joseph De Sousa.

Third Row: John Lopez, Richard Piave, Rudy Rehar, Robert Dickerson.

Badminton...

Several interested boys have formed a badminton club which has met in the gym once a week. These boys have met without an advisor all through the year and have improved their skill in the game of badminton. Sectionals in this sport were held in the spring term. Jack Vail, Winsor Lott, and David Champlin were the contestants from Central. There were seven other schools participating. Our team came in third in the doubles and fourth in the singles.

First Row: William McElwain, Winsor Lott, Jack Bourbeau, Robert Kucera.

Bowling...

This year again the pinboys ducked as the Bulldog maple smashers cleared the alleys time and again. Coach Frank Clark's squad was paced by Jerry Christoff, who averaged above 160 and had the high single of 236 and high triple of 598. Finishing third in the league, the Central bowlers lost only to J.C., the final champions. With many boys coming back and a promising J.V. squad coming up, Coach Clark has a good reason for optimism.

Winter Carnival..

Sectionals have been held this year in ping pong, skiing, and rifle. The ping pong sectionals, with fifteen schools participating, found B. C. H. S. reaching the semi-finals in both the doubles and singles. Members of the ski club represented Central at the sectionals in Coopers-town. Chuck Berlinghoff and Bob Douglas placed first in slalom and downhill respectively. The Central team placed second in the tournament. The ringing shots at I. B. M. in March came from members of our rifle club who placed fifth among 16 teams participating.

Intramural...

With the same fire and competition that highlighted the previous season, intramural basketball again got under way under the supervision of Hank Merz. Twelve teams of 101 boys took part in the program, and an exciting double elimination tournament decided the outcome, with the "Golden Five"—Mickey Grivas, Bill Lane, John Osborne, Bill and Dewitt Pine, and Joe Pecka—leading the field to the wire. With the close of the '47-'48 campaign, intramural caging had become more firmly entrenched than ever as a Central tradition.

Golf...

As the season got started, the Bulldog golf squad, undisputed league and sectional champions of 1947, were again gunning for some outstanding link performances in a schedule that included the Triple Cities schools and Ithaca, among others. Jim Brewster, Jay Wescott, and Andy Korba, a star of last year's nation-wide caddies' tournament were back to lead a strong array of lettermen, and Coach Art Sharpsteen had reason to breathe easily as he took over the coaching berth.

Tennis...

Prospects for Coach John Guley's Bulldog tennis squad, unbeaten in the past 19 years, again looked very bright as the boys took to the courts for the '48 season. The team rapidly worked into shape for a schedule that included, among others, the North Indians, the Little Redmen of Ithaca, and the ever dangerous purple racketeers of Norwich. Returning lettermen included Ted Siver, George Gitlitz, John Bloom, and Dick George, and a promising array of netmen came up from the J.V.'s and the junior high schools.

Bill Pine and George Bills break the tape ahead of J.C. in the 220.

Mike Jabo goes over the bar in the high jump.

Track...

Coach Hank Merz must have thought it was still 1947 when he called his first track practice this spring. One thing he didn't lack was capable veterans. Back from last year's winged footers were many stars and record breakers. There were: Billy Pine, who when there were no more records to break in the hurdles broke his own records; Ed Dailey, who cracked the discus standard; Joe Pecka, who shattered the pole vault mark; Herb Rogers, unbeatable in the high jump; Billy Haskins, broad jumper and sprinter. There were also George Bills, Rudy Rebah, John Noahis, Phil Jopy, and many others, all capable of good showings.

Baseball...

This spring Whitey Anderson set out to put another feather in his cap as he took over the reins of the Bulldog's baseball aggregation. Back to ease his task were a fine group of veterans from last year: pitchers Ken Crear and Jack Bartlett, infielders Harry Brown and Bill Lane, outfielders John Yuhas and Bob Kniffen, and shortstop and catcher Fred Eydt. Several J. V.'s from last year took over the remaining posts. Among these were Don Simek, Joe Graciale, and Walt Rowley. It looked like a winning team from the beginning, especially since an Anderson-coached team has never lacked the fight, determination, will, and skill to win.

Girls' Sports...

For the first time in six years, girls are again participating actively in sports despite the fact that they lack a gym. Under the leadership of Miss Taylor and Miss Freer a large number of enthusiastic Central girls have showed a keen interest in athletics during the past year. Bowling was assigned to four teams which alternately met on Tuesday nights after school. Basketball was organized in a similar way with playoffs at the end of the season. Awards were presented to the eight outstanding girl basketball players. The spring sports which were participated in were softball and tennis. This has been a wonderful start toward reviving sports for girls in Central. The work done this year has proved to be an enjoyable program for those participating, and also has given the girls good training in sportsmanship and teamwork, two valuable lessons in life. Perhaps the present proof that girls are interested in athletics will help to obtain the gym that Central needs so badly.

Graduation is a goal which stands ahead of each Central student. The process of graduating takes not a night, but a whole term. First come the class meetings and the election of officers; then the rings, announcements, and pictures. The exciting prom follows closely on the heels of the fun-packed class picnic. And finally the night of nights arrives.

Graduation

Memories...

Steffie Kucera is measured by members of the cap and gown committee.

Armand Di Ritis, taking a few minutes out from the graduation rehearsal, tells his friends all about it.

These two couples led the North and Central graduates and their dates in the grand march at the January prom.

Mr. Schuster adjusts the cap of one of the honor graduates as Mr. Disinger sets a picture up.

Members of the prom committee meet at Central to make plans for the prom.

Ann Belansky and Bill Flynn help out in the class day assembly by giving the student body a taste of the "twenties."

What would a January class picnic be like without ice skating?

What size do you want your ad?... (Peaches? No, I don't care for any)... Sign on the dotted line... (Yes, madam, we have plastic rulers)... Copy ready tomorrow?... (The interest rate is 6%)... Do you want a picture in the ad?... (No, I'm sorry, no silk pajamas this season)... Such runs the conversation when our Business Staff is out arranging—

ADVERTISEMENTS

Aside from our subscriptions, the only financial support which the Panorama Annual has comes from our advertisers. We extend our appreciation to the businesses of the area which have helped to make this edition possible. Our thanks also go to the Central students who posed for the pictures in the ads.

That's a neat, lightweight all-wool sportcoat that Bob has on. Harry is wearing a "Glenfair" raincoat, by GLEN-EAGLE. They're looking at a pair of all-wool gabardine slacks being shown by Dave Rosenthal of Grube & Smith Men's Store.

 better values!

Bob Dowd and Harry Kradjian are old-timers at Grube & Smith Men's Store. They've found — as have many other Hi-Schoolers — that they like the way Grube & Smith clothes look and fit!

What's more, they like the "no high-pressure" policy. As a result they shop Grube & Smith with perfect confidence that they'll get top-value, smarter styling in everything they buy.

"Ask the Man Who Owns One"

Marilyn Brefka and Janet Canklin laak as if they might be jealaus of Sally Riesner—and with gaad reason!
Sally is behind the wheel of a 1948
Packard from Merville-Deya.

Congratulations to

High School

CLASS OF '48

Like Janus, you are looking back—and forward:
back upon happy school days filled with memories and with preparation; forward upon a future of planned accomplishment. Experiences of the past are valuable stepping stones toward future success. Don't disregard them. Our best wishes go with you!

COMPTON-DUNN for CLOTHES

"MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED"

Below: Central huskies, Bob Thorne, Jim Grogan, Jim Gibbons, and John Burns try on the latest fashions at Compton-Dunn.

For several years now, Compton-Dunn has been outfitting Central men from head to toe. The reason for Compton - Dunn's popularity among Central men is simple . . . Compton-Dunn are experts at dressing the student body. It makes no difference if you're a green freshman, a sophisticated sophomore, a jaunty junior, or a smooth senior, Compton-Dunn always has the clothes you want.

Compton-Dunn knows what's what on the leading campuses, too. That's why, by means of a new wardrobe, they've transformed so many smooth high school seniors to self-confident, assured college freshmen.

Compton - Dunn expresses its sincere best wishes for success to every member of Central's 1948 graduating class.

APPRECIATION

To these individuals and organizations we give our hearty thanks and gratitude:

To the Central students for their cooperation and outstanding support.

To Mr. Grace, our adviser, for his guidance and patience in our frequent problems.

To Miss Miller and Miss Murphy and their classes for typing the Graduate achievement slips and home room lists.

To the school secretaries for their willing assistance in securing school records and lists.

To Mrs. Coffman and all the teachers for their cooperation during the subscription drive.

To the clubs and organizations for their cooperation with the PAN ANNUAL Staff and Mr. Disinger.

To the advertisers without whose assistance this publication would not be possible.

To Mr. John Gable, and the Photography Club for their assistance in providing some of the pictures.

Sincerely,

THE PANORAMA BOARD 1948
